Gone Tomorrow by BYT

BYRON Youth Theatre is looking forward to sharing its last production: Gone Tomorrow.

Funded by Northern Rivers Community Foundation and with financial assistance from Cunning Stunts, this play looks at the devastating effects of youth suicide, how compounded mental health challenges can severely affect young people and how and where to access help.

BYT members have interviewed people affected by suicide, shared their personal experiences with mental health issues as well as conducted supported research with Headspace, Beyond Blue,

Black Dog, Social Futures, psychologist Peter Chown, Open Minds, Well Ways and the Mental Health Association of NSW.

The production will include live music performed by cast members and a mixture of realistic and stylised scenes.

BYT has been commissioned to perform their work Mind Made Me on November 23 at Ballina Coast High School for their Wellbeing Festival.

Mind Made Me was performed at Lismore City Hall and the Drill Hall recently.

👉 At the Drill Hall in Mullumbimby on Saturday and Sunday, December 9 and 10.
